5. Regulation of Engineer Owned/ Shared Firm/ Company

The policy for engineer(s) owned/ shared Constructor/ Operator firms/ companies was introduced to inculcate and encourage entrepreneurship among engineers. But this policy was exploited and misused over a period of time by depicting engineers as partners in paper formality only against the compensation of lump sum amounts. In order to arrest the tendency. GB took the following decision:-

- a. Such firms/companies which obtained their initial registration on the basis of engineer partner/shareholder, can replace that engineer with another engineer of equal experience, which will be allowed for one time only. However, if engineer partner/shareholder quits and firm provides verifiable work order(s) either in single or accumulative form in the name of the firm, obtained in last three years, having value of work(s) at least 70% of its lower category with substantial completion of works i.e. minimum 60%, the firm will be retained in its existing category. In case, the firm is unable to replace engineer of equal experience or unable to provide work order(s) as mentioned above, the firm will be closed/de-registered.
- b. If a firm/company is upgraded on the basis of engineer ownership/partnership/shareholding and that engineer quits or removed from the partnership then the said firm/ company shall be placed in that category which it was holding prior to up-gradation. Such firm/ company can apply for upgradation again on the basis of another engineer partnership/shareholding yet only for one time. In case, the new incumbent engineer also decides to quit or is removed from the firm/company, its category shall be on its original position. No further opportunity shall be allowed to such companies/firms to apply for upgradation on engineer partnership basis.
- c. In case a firm is upgraded on partnership/shareholding of engineer and further upgraded on works or net worth basis then such firm will be one step downgraded whenever the engineer partner quits or is removed from it.
- d. In case a firm is registered/ upgraded on the basis of an engineer and that engineer expires/ becomes incapacitated then legal heirs of that engineer will own the partnership share of said engineer, without any change in its category. The firm will, however, become non-engineer owned/ shared entity. In case of no legal heirs or on quitting/ removal thereof at later stage, the firm will be downgraded by one category.
